Anyone can request "directory information" (student names, addresses, etc.) and it is up to the school to decide who they give this information to. Under FERPA and NCLB, schools receiving federal funding must make directory information available to military recruiters upon request. All other requests must be determined by the school, and schools can disclose directory info to others as long as they don't discriminate.

Please leave blank if we can print information.

PLEASE NOTE: ing and Signing this form means.....whenever your child does something of note at school, we would not inform the paper or whomever, the name of your child. The names would not be printed in the yearbook, website or the school directory at all. Your child's name would be withheld from all public documents.
